Why don't we try to see what the other geographic NIOs come up with as subjects in their area for this kind of far out brainstorming.

THE DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20505

National Intelligence Council

30 November 1982

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

THROUGH : Chairman, National Intelligence Council

FROM : [REDACTED] 25X1
National Intelligence Officer for East Asia

SUBJECT : Analysis of Possible Future Contingencies in East Asia

1. [REDACTED] has sent you a memo listing contingency papers he plans to write in the coming months. His papers will address the consequences of various possible radical changes in his area. 25X1

2. East Asia is far more stable than the Near East. Indeed among the major areas of the world none is more supportive of US foreign policy and more receptive to US trade and investment than East Asia, with the partial exception of Western Europe. Accordingly, my list of contingency papers is fairly short:

[REDACTED] 25X1

-- Sino-Soviet talks are more successful than expected, altering the geopolitical map in fundamental ways.

-- Philippine base negotiations bog down and collapse, souring US-Philippine relations
